PACKED FOR HOME TRIP
WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—The big top of the 101 Ranch Wild West show, standing for over two weeks while negotiations between employees and owners of the stranded outfit continued, came down today. Without waiting for an additional court order to restrain interference by the unpaid trouper, the management imported a crew of laborers from Baltimore. In a few hours half the show equipment and stock had been moved, preparatory to shipping back to headquarters in Marland, Oklahoma. Five elephants, reported to be unmanageable save by their regular handler, were docile enough before the bullhook wielded by a negro elephant boss. The approximately 400 unpaid show employees made no attempt to interfere as the tents came down.

KING ORDERED HELD IN YOUTHS' SLAYING
MARION, Ark., Aug. 18.—(P)—C. Rex King, 36, was ordered held for the action of the Crittenden county grand jury after a preliminary hearing today before Magistrate A. B. Wylie on charges of murdering two North Carolina youths whose bodies were found in a swamp near here last October.

WILSON TO SEEK AUTO TAG PEACE

Conference With N. C. Officials Expected To Result In Settlement.

A peace conference with North Carolina motor vehicle license authorities will be sought today by John B. Wilson, Georgia secretary of state, in an effort to avert a tag war between the two states, Wilson announced Tuesday following receipt of a telegram from Sprague Silver, North Carolina motor supervisor, complaining of enforcement of the Georgia motor carriers' act against North Carolina trucks.

While Silver reported to Wilson that a number of North Carolina truck owners have been fined and made to take out North Carolina license tags since the reprisals began Saturday.

Wilson expressed the fact that your office is not causing the trouble, but that it is the public service commission, Silver wired Wilson. "At the same time, it is causing our truck owners entering your state or passing through to be penalized and we feel it is nothing but right that we require the same of Georgia trucks. We took up the matter with the commission but failed to get any satisfaction at all."

Silver informed Wilson that the fine and license fee required of Mather Brothers for a truck detained at Gastonia, N. C., will not be returned, but that Mather Brothers will be required to obtain a North Carolina license to operate on the highways of that state.

Georgia truck operators who were fined in North Carolina, according to Silver, are: Frank Miller, Dalton; Thomas Ball, Lexington; William O'Connell, Fulton; Ed Murrell, Blythe; Austell Cabinet Company and Mather Brothers, Atlanta, and W. B. Goodwin, Augusta.

COLOMBIA, ECUADOR REACH ACCORD

QUITO, Colombia, Aug. 18.—(P)—Diplomatic relations between Colombia and Ecuador, severed in November, 1925, were resumed today.

In 1925 Colombia and Ecuador severed diplomatic relations. The action had its roots in ratification by the Colombian congress of a boundary treaty with Peru despite Ecuadorian protests against the cession of land involved.

It was a strip in the Amazon valley which Ecuador held to be part of a parcel ceded to Colombia by Ecuador on condition that it should not be disposed of by Colombia except by returning it to Ecuador.

EDUCATION GROUP TO MEET IN MACON

Macon was selected as the next meeting place of the Georgia Education Association at a meeting of the executive committee of that body held Tuesday morning in the Henry Grady hotel. A delegation headed by Mayor E. Glen Toole advanced the claims of the middle Georgia city. The meeting is to be held next April.

Guy Wells, of Statesboro, president of the association, presided.

'HOME' CRUELTY BARED AS INMATE DISAPPEARS

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 18.—(P)—Governor W. H. Murray said late today he was starting an investigation to learn the whereabouts of Herman Farmer, said by Mrs. Mabel Bassett, commissioner of charities, and corrections, to have disappeared "after a beating" from the state institution for feeble-minded, Enid.

Earlier in the day charges were made by Mrs. Bassett that feeble-minded children at the institution were locked in refrigerators, tied in sacks, held under water in bathtubs, struck with "trape, boards, broom and mop sticks," and that girls were placed in straightjackets, tied to beds and gagged. She submitted affidavits gathered in a recent inquiry at the institution and asked removal of Ed D. Andrus, superintendent, and five employees. Andrus denied all accusations.

MURRAY'S JOB PLAN HITS MEMPHIS SNAG

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 18.—(P)—A rift in the plans for an unemployment relief conference of Mississippi valley states at Memphis next Monday appeared today as Governor Murray, of Oklahoma, who called the convention, said the southern city had failed to co-operate.

The Memphis Chamber of Commerce, he said, "was a sorry bunch of businessmen." Declaring the chamber had advised him it could not commit itself to any program without knowing the plan, he added the plan "wasn't any of their business."

The governor said he was sorry he had set the conference for Memphis and that, if it were not too late, he would name some other city. He has now been advised, however, that the Peabody hotel at Memphis can be used for the meeting.

Oklahoma sponsors of the conference plan to foster a request for a special session of congress to appropriate money for aiding the jobless.

TAMPAN DISAPPEARS AT CLEARWATER BEACH

CLEARWATER, Fla., Aug. 18.—(P)—Authorities here today tried to solve the mystery of the disappearance last Saturday of Stanley Goddard, Tampa sign shop proprietor. Goddard rented a dressing room at Clearwater Beach and has not returned to claim his clothing or his automobile parked outside the casino.

Officers believed Goddard's body would have been sighted by the fishing fleet had he been drowned. His watch was left at the desk of the Casino, but his pocketbook was not checked and was not located in his clothing.

Virginia Dare's Memory Honored in Carolina

FORT RALEIGH, N. C., Aug. 18.—(P)—North Carolina today observed the 344th anniversary of the birth of Virginia Dare, first child born of English parents in America, with a celebration here on the site of Sir Walter Raleigh's ill-fated Roanoke Island colony.

Thousands gathered from the southeast heard retold the story of the founding of the first English colony here and the subsequent unexplained disappearance of the colonists.

U. S. OIL PRODUCTION CUT ALMOST IN HALF

KILGORE, Texas, Aug. 18.—(P)—Approximately two-fifths of the entire crude oil production of the United States had been cut off tonight by the action of two men—Governors W. H. Murray, of Oklahoma, and Ross S. Sterling, of Texas.

The shutdown of the great east Texas field—largest in the country—was completed today under martial law stemming the rush of petroleum that overwhelmed the industry and drove prices to the lowest level in midcentury history.

Flush wells in Oklahoma closed two weeks ago by Governor Murray, remained under martial law and the Oklahoma executive reiterated the shutdown would continue until purchasing companies raised the price to $1 a barrel.

Action of the two governors cut nearly 1,000,000 barrels from the nation's daily output of crude.

Predictions of Governor Sterling and oil leaders that prices were headed upward and that possible stabilization of the industry, long suffering from overproduction, was in sight, found some degree of fulfillment today.

The Morgan Petroleum Company boosted its offer for Oklahoma City crude to 77 cents a barrel, 25 cents above the existing price, contingent on reopening of the wells in that field. But Governor Murray was unshaken in his stand for $1 oil.

Fred Morgan, president of the company, said he considered 77 cents reasonable and in line with prices of other commodities. He expressed the opinion other companies would meet his offer.

With the flood of production stopped, Oklahoma and Texas, the Kansas public service commission was preparing for a hearing early next month to determine the extent of a possible shutdown in that state.

Reports to the national guard headquarters here indicated general compliance with the martial law proclamation in east Texas. Evasion of the military orders became at noon today an offense punishable by arrest and imprisonment until martial law is lifted.

A number of laborers in the field were released to shift for themselves but the majority of companies retained their personnel. About 10,000 men have been employed in the area.

EX-WIFE OF TELLEGEN FILES $12,331 SUIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(P)—A default judgment of $12,331.41 against Lou Tellegen, actor, was entered in the county clerk's office today by Isabelle Craven Dilworth Tellegen, one of his former wives, after he failed to answer her suit.

She charged $12,000 was due under an agreement he made to pay her $100 weekly toward the support of their son, Rex Tellegen, now eight years old. They were divorced in Los Angeles on November 23, 1928.

Tellegen was once the husband of Geraldine Farrar, opera and concert singer.

NEW YORK WITNESSES SECONDDOUBLEKILLING

BINGHAMTON, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(P)—Binghamton tonight had its second double killing in four days. The bodies of Charles C. Lyon, 38, and Gladys Severson, 27, were found on a bed in the woman's apartment. They had been shot to death.

A note left by the girl said: "I asked Charley to do it." No motive has been established. Miss Severson had been shot twice in the chest and Lyon once.

On Saturday A. J. Robinson shot and killed Miss Florence Stevens in a crowded department store and then committed suicide.

U. S. WILL PUSH WORK ON ROADS INTO FALL

Construction in South Will Be Continued Beyond That in North.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(P)—Thousands of the men employed on the expanded highway construction program are expected by the administration to swing picks and shovels almost until the snow flies.

A tapering off on projects begins in September, but the reduction in the number at work promises to be gradual. In the south, construction work will go forward after it has stopped in the colder north.

Congress sought to aid the idle last session by increasing the regular federal aid appropriation from $75,000,000 to $125,000,000 and advancing an emergency fund of $80,000,000 to be repaid by states over a period of years. It also appropriated $12,000,000 for roads and trails in national parks and forests.

These funds, together with state appropriations, have given employment to many thousands. Figures for June obtained by the president's committee on employment showed 274,734 men at work in 37 states.

Learn what a difference six cylinders make

*in smoothness
quietness
flexibility handling ease riding comfort dependability economy
long life*

Step out of any other low-priced car, step into a Chevrolet, and drive! If you're accustomed to less-than-six performance, you'll be surprised at the difference six cylinders make.

When you start the engine, and let it idle—the whole car remains steady, as well as everything in it. When you drop into low gear, and let the engine take hold—the power flows evenly. There's no semblance of strain.

This smoothness stays with you whatever you do. Accelerate—throttle down—go fifteen or fifty—take a hill in high—or creep along in low. Consistently, you get the same fine smooth response. For six-cylinder smoothness is built in the motor—and objectionable vibration never gets a chance to start!

Yet smoothness is only part of your six-cylinder experience. There's quietness—comfort—flexibility—handling ease. All are points in which sixes excel, all are noticeable in one short drive. Quietness, because noisy vibration is gone, and with it a big source of squeaks and rattles. There is only a steady purr of blended power. Comfort, especially at low and high speeds. A six doesn't tire the driver or the passengers. A six is easier on body—and nerves. Flexibility, because the power-impulses of a six overlap. Response is more positive; performance more elastic. High gear can be used for most of the day's work. There's less shifting to do. The car is easier to handle!

And particularly, if you raise the hood of a Chevrolet and watch the engine while it runs, you'll know what a difference six cylinders make—to your pocketbook. Without vibration to cause friction and wear, the whole car must last longer, require less attention, less repair. And remember—thousands of owners have found that this engine uses less gas and oil than any other.

You owe it to yourself—to your comfort and general satisfaction—to see and drive a Chevrolet Six now. Your Chevrolet dealer will gladly arrange to let you make your own tests to learn what a difference six cylinders make.

CHINESE FLOODS WRECK INDUSTRY

Hankow Dam Break Kills Hundreds; Inundates Factories.

HANKOW, China, Aug. 19.—(AP)—Several hundred Chinese residents of Hankow drowned today when the big Chiakow dyke protecting the city's western suburbs collapsed, inundating the principal native industrial district, including big flour, cotton and silk mills.

An accurate estimate of the number who perished was not possible in view of the chaos that prevailed following the disaster.

Although all foreigners in Hankow were reported safe, a great majority of foreign women have left the city and more were leaving on every steamer.

A Chinese exodus from the stricken city also was under way on a huge scale. All available means of transportation was packed with humanity and what personal belongings could be loaded aboard. Big river junks were traversing what once were city streets, removing valuables from homes and warehouses.

The highest ground in Hankow was under five feet of water today, while most of the city was inundated from 10 to 20 feet.

Epidemics were becoming more serious among the tens of thousands of refugees, who had nothing to drink but flood waters. Typhoid, cholera and dysentery were ravaging the helpless Chinese.

One of the most important dykes of Wuhan, which, with Hankow and Hanyang, form the so-called triad of the city's ancient wall. Today's disaster at Hankow came just a day after the arrival here of John Earl Baker, American adviser to the ministry of railways, who has been loaned to the flood commission and headed a party of commissioners who came from Shanghai by airplane.

Impropriety of 'Lap-Sitting' Point at Issue in Manget Suit

MISS ETHEL ABNER.

Shall a young girl be bundled off to jail for sitting in her fiancé's lap? This will be the point at issue when a $25,000 damage suit against John A. Manget, chairman of the Churches' Home for Girls board, comes to trial. The suit, charging conscious eviction from one of the homes and false arrest, was brought by Miss Ethel Abner, an orphan since early childhood.

Mr. Manget Tuesday was reported as answering the charges of the girl's suit with the statement that it was a "spite move" on Miss Abner's part for being ejected. He added that "for the best interests of the nearly 200 other girls living in the homes we had to ask her to leave."

Miss Abner's offense, according to the terms of the suit, was that she "cast a reflection on the home by sitting in a boy's lap in the parlor." And her punishment, the brief continues, was to be cast out penniless, with no place to turn for food or shelter, and to be "publicly humiliated," when fear of starvation forced her to cling desperately to the home as her only recourse, by being carried in an open police car through the streets to the city jail.

Fred After Several Hours.

After summarily ordering her to be arrested and "locked up for several days," the suit alleged, Mr. Manget left the city, without troubling himself to place formal charges against the young woman, and it was only for lack of these charges that her release was effected after she had been imprisoned for several hours, it is charged.

And as a sequel to Manget's treatment of herself, Miss Abner asserts, the chairman of the homes dismissed her sister, Alice, also an inmate, with no other pretext than the "malicious dislike" which, apparently, he had conceived for the sister already evicted.

The suit is further complicated by Miss Abner's statement that she did not sit in the boy's lap, and that the boy in question, "who at all times acted the part of a gentleman and kept within the spirit and letter of rules governing visitors to the home," is none other than R. L. Duncan, the young man to whom she is engaged to be married.

Charge of Matron.
The original charge of impropriety, the suit alleges, was brought against Miss Abner by a matron of the home, which, one of several similar institutions, is located at 248 Capitol avenue, and it is also alleged that Manget caused her forcible eviction without investigating the charge.

Furthermore, it is charged that Manget, in a letter to Miss Abner, ordered her to "leave the home in disgrace, stigmatizing her by a repetition of the false charges made by said matron," and followed this up by a letter to the girl's fiancé "in which the latter's defense of Miss Abner was termed a falsehood."

"The unlawful, malicious and spiteful acts of the defendant as aforesaid could only have originated in the mind of a self-righteous bigot and professional reformer, inoculated with the idea that his own petty opinions, based on no facts, were more important than the altruistic and Christian impulses motivating said homes, which he seems to so conspicuously mismanage," the brief continues.

With years of hardship and struggle against unfair odds of life made more difficult by the acts alleged against the well known capitalist in the petition, Miss Abner Tuesday faced the battle of life entirely defenseless save for the unexpected aid of a few kind citizens who came to her help. The story of her life indicates that for years she had fought as best she could against losing odds.

Orphan at 10.
At the age of 10 she was in an orphan home in Decatur, her mother dead, her father's whereabouts unknown to her. She was fostered there for 10 years, until becoming of age, when she went out to meet the world "on her own." Shortly thereafter she entered the Churches' Home for Girls' residence on Washington street. During the year and a half she remained there she obtained a position, was able to support herself and, in accordance with the custom of the home, then left to make room for others not yet self-supporting.

When the economic depression found her without a job, she again entered a home of the churches' homes organization, this time on Capitol avenue. From there, every day that her health permitted, she went out to seek work. During that time the only man with whom she shared her evenings allowed for visits was R. L. Duncan, the young man with whom she is implicated in the cause given for her ousting as acting impropriately by sitting in his lap in a parlor.

BRITONS DEVISE ECONOMY PLAN

Details of Program Un- revealed After Confer- ence in London.

BY VICTOR EUBANK.
LONDON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The economy subcommittee of the cabinet this evening arrived at general agreement on plans to overcome Great Britain's financial crisis.

What these plans were remained undivulged, but they are to be presented at a general cabinet meeting tomorrow and if approved—which seems a foregone conclusion—it is considered probable a special session of parliament will be summoned in September to pass the legislation made necessary by them.

The subcommittee's program aims at cutting 100,000,000 pounds sterling (about $200,000,000) from the budget. The final session of the subcommittee, composed of the cabinet "big five" and headed by Prime Minister MacDonald, lasted all day with only a brief interval for lunch. No announcement was issued tonight but it was understood definite proposals had been drawn up and awaited the sanction of the full cabinet.

At the full cabinet meeting Mr. MacDonald and Philip Snowden, chancellor of the exchequer, will explain the economy proposals and the reasons for them, and will outline additional taxation which is to be spread equally over all sections of the nation.

The government's plans will be communicated to leaders of the opposition parties Thursday, when the conservative and liberal chiefs are expected to be invited to the prime minister's residence for a conference. On Thursday morning the government will meet with the consultative committee of the parliamentary labor party and in the afternoon Foreign Secretary Arthur Henderson, the minister who is strongest with labor, will explain the economy proposals to the trades unions council. In political circles Thursday is regarded as the vital day of this week of budget struggles.

Exchequer returns issued today show the total ordinary revenue last week was 9,284,238 pounds sterling (about $18,564,700), against 9,207,707 pounds sterling (about $18,415,354) the corresponding week in 1930. Ordinary expenditures last week amounted to $45,315,045, an increase of about $1,500,000 over the corresponding week in 1930. Since March 31 the floating debt has increased by $501,450,000, the present total being approximately $3,473,000,000.

Just Need a Break, Says Tex Guinan, As Club Is Bombed

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—It was jealousy, "the same kind of jealousy that kept me and my poor girls out of France," Texas Guinan blamed tonight for the bombing early today of Woodmanston Inn, a suburban night club.

"They bombed your night club," Miss Guinan was told as a reporter's telephone call interrupted her sleep.

"What next?" she answered with a sigh. "All my life my ambition has been to be awakened by some one saying softly: 'Some flowers for you, Miss Guinan.'"

"But instead, what do I get? Nothing but, 'Hey, they shot at your automobile, Tex,' or, 'Wake up, your club's on fire' or, 'Tex! Tex! They've just bombed your hang-out!'"

She was told the only person in the building, a night watchman, had escaped uninjured, that the only damage was a few broken windows and that police thought the bombing the work of an amateur.

"It must have been a pitcher for one of those losing baseball clubs," Texas shot back. "They'd better check up on the Giants' (twister)." Would she be at the inn tonight?

"Sure, and I'll have a bullet-proof vest strapped around me and a helmet on my head. Will I ask for protection? Say, I don't need a bodyguard; all I need is a break."

"I've got plenty of enemies, you know. But I can still take care of a few more, if any one wants to start trouble. It's a dog's life, though. If you make good they're jealous and you're in hot water. If you don't make good it's worse, so what the—"

And with that Miss Guinan went back to sleep.

BLONDE'S HEARING DELAYED TWO DAYS

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Ruth Jayne Cranmer, 22-year-old blonde ex-model, was held without bail in magistrate's court today on suspicion of felonious assault—the shooting early Friday following a drinking party of State Senator Roy T. Yates, of Paterson, N. J.

The police, who signed the short affidavit on which the young woman was brought into court, asked for a week's adjournment because of Yates' condition. He was shot in the abdomen in the girl's apartment on West 89th street.

Miss Cranmer, cool and collected, objected to such a long delay, and the court thereupon ordered her held for 48 hours, or until Thursday.

U. S. TELLS CONTRACTOR TO PAY $11 TO PAINTERS

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—The treasury notified the Alliance Construction Company of New York today that it must pay workmen painting the interior of the new internal revenue building here $11 per day or the contract would be terminated, under the clause permitting such action.

The action was taken after Secretary Dusk ruled that the law required that government contractors must pay in each community the wage scale prevailing there.

The company announced Saturday that it would take the case to court rather than grant the workmen an increase. The attention of the government was called to the case by the local painters' union.

Tuesday the day started with 74 degrees, a minimum and reached 98 at its peak. "It's Mark Twain weather," said von Herrmann, "everybody is talking about it, but no one is doing anything about it."

She said that Hill is dead and that she divorced Rogers. Garrett was brought here from Harrisburg, Pa., to face the charge of bigamy. He indicated Tuesday that he would enter a plea of guilty.

EDUCATION BOARD ABOLITION BEATEN

Council Measure Advers- ed by House Municipal Government Committee.

Council's plan to abolish the present board of education and create a board of trustees to be elected by council, having been introduced in the house at the last minute Tuesday morning, was adversely by the municipal government committee in a short meeting following the morning session of the house. The adverse action was voted after a delegation of Atlanta public school teachers appeared to protest the measure.

The house and senate bills to redivide Atlanta into six wards were passed out favorably, as were the two 12-ward bills, the members of the Fulton and DeKalb delegations being left to choose between the measures when they come up on the floor of the house. All four measures were protested by some member or members of the local delegations and minority reports were filed.

Representatives McRae and Eckford withdrew their water rate hike bill to which a referendum was attached.

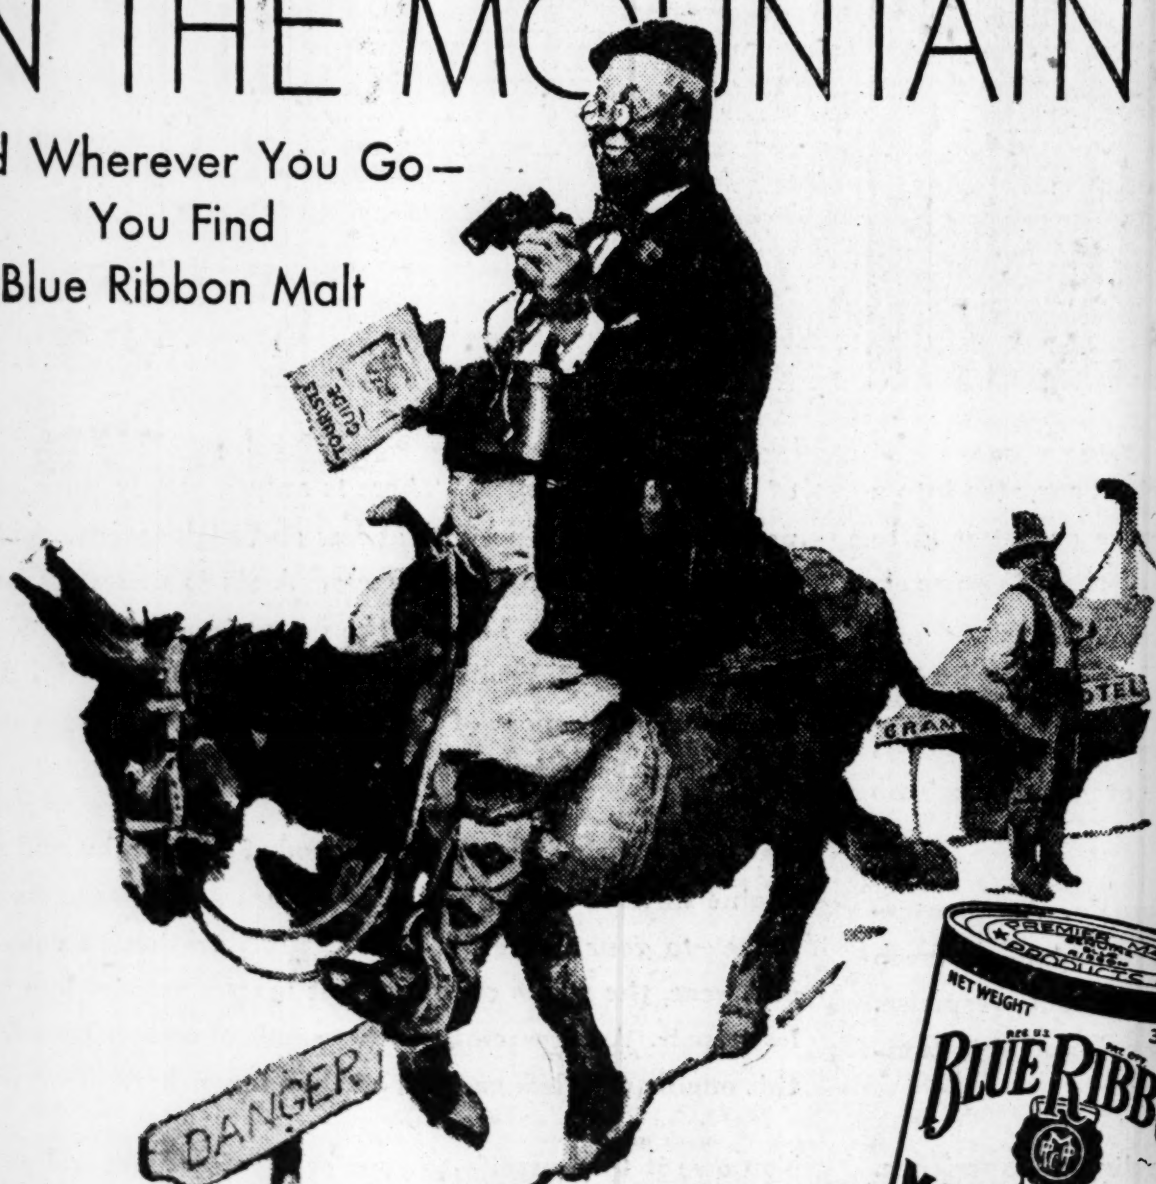

The bill creating the Atlanta sanitary district was given a favorable report, while Representative Lindsay's bill to limit city employees' pensions to a maximum of $100 a month was voted down at the author's request.

ARIES INTERESTS RAP FREIGHT MIKE

Coal, Oil and Cement Protests Entered; Marketing Body Opposes Increase.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 18.—(AP)—

Coal, oil and cement interests today filed protests with the interstate commerce commission against the 15 per cent freight rate increase proposed by the railroads.

Representatives of the National Railroad Merchants Association, the New England Coal Dealers Association, the New England Cement Association, the Portland Cement Association and the Standard Oil Company of Kentucky opposed the percentage increase and suggested a surcharge of $5 a car on petroleum and petroleum products.

R. A. McLean, of Mount Olive, N. C., told the commission that increased freight rates on fruits and vegetables cannot be justified and will increase the cost of living.

McLean is secretary of Andrews & Knowles, Inc., who act as marketing agents for growers and growers' organizations in Florida, Georgia, North Carolina, South Carolina, Virginia and Maryland, and at times for growers in other states.

Using the financial condition of growers in eastern North Carolina, which McLean said was typical of prevailing conditions in Florida, Georgia and South Carolina, the witness asserted farm prices were so low that the crop for this year would be produced at a loss.

"The depressed condition in which we do business," McLean said, "is such that any increase in transportation costs of those fruits and vegetables which must be shipped by rail will result in a reduced net return to the grower and add to the burdens under which he is operating."

McLean said his company purchased three trucks on April 1, 1931, for $1,000 each and began trucking fruit and vegetables as far north as Boston. To determine the expense of trucking, they charged regular rail rates on all commodities except strawberries, which were allowed a 20 per cent reduction.

"After paying all operating expenses, including repairs," McLean said, "these three trucks in the period between April 1 and July 25, 1931, completely repaid to our company their original cost."

Other trucks are being hired at present, he said, while trucking companies are eager for business and in many instances are willing to make arrangements under which their charges are reduced if the goods at destination do not bring their cost price at the point of origin plus the trucking charge.

Use of trucks, he said, not only gives a more expedient service in many instances but eliminates necessity of trucking from the farm to the railroad and from the railroad terminal at the destination to the market. Any increase in freight rates above the present level will simply increase the rapidly growing movement by trucks," said McLean. "There can be no question about that. If there is an increase in freight rates, our company is prepared to purchase 25 or 30 additional trucks or as many as are required to carry the traffic."

KnightsofColumbus Council Convenes At French Lick

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Aug. 18.—

(AP)—A green grove formed a cathedral today in which the first annual convention of the supreme council, Knights of Columbus, was opened with solemn pontifical mass celebrated by the Most Rev. John A. Floersch, bishop of Louisville.

The Right Rev. Joseph Charrand, bishop of Indianapolis, preaching in harmony, gave a warning against the laxity of modern morals and against greed. The belief that a modern code of morals has been discovered was "colossal stupidity on the part of man."

Martin H. Carmody, of Grand Rapids, Mich., supreme knight, called the convention for the first session following the outdoor mass. In a review of the activities of the order during the last year, he told of relief work done in war-stricken areas and among unemployed. He told also of plans for the supreme council session next year in Washington, which will mark the anniversary of the finding of the order will be celebrated.

Protests Against Rate Hike Continue at Atlanta Hearing

Protests from southern industry against the railroads' proposal that freight rates be increased 18 per cent continued to pile up Tuesday in the interstate commerce commission hearing here. Mining and quarrying interests, steel mills and traffic experts were represented by Tuesday's witnesses.

C. R. Moffett, of the Knoxville traffic bureau, told Commissioner Eastman that an increase would drive shippers to use trucks even more extensively than at present.

Harry Moore, traffic manager of the Atlanta freight bureau, expressed the opinion that the railroads would be better off if the law setting up a given net income standard for railroads were repealed. He said the roads would be better off if they had to "go out and sell their goods as other concerns have to do," instead of having competition from other lines partially eliminated.

Sam Tate, president of the Georgia Marble Company, said his company would "pull through somehow" if the rates were raised, but would be forced to use water transportation wherever possible.

J. D. Oliver, of the Birmingham Slag Company, said his company would be driven out as a competitor in certain markets, notably the Carolinas, if the increase were granted.

W. G. Womble, North Carolina traffic expert, suggested flat rates of so much per carload instead of the scale of commodity rates.

W. A. Graham, North Carolina commissioner of agriculture, said higher rates would be an insuperable obstacle to agricultural recovery.

J. W. Cone, North Carolina industrialist and financier, said the railroads were at least as well off, and perhaps better, than any other industries and agriculture, their prices having been government-regulated while others were slashed to shreds.

W. B. Lewis, of the Alabama Steel & Iron conference, said higher freight rates would complete the job of making southern steel mills unable to compete with those of the north.

E. M. Cole, of the Alabama Pipe Association, also opposed the increase.

S. L. Yerkes, representing Alabama coal mine operators, said the sale of coal already had fallen off 40 per cent since 1929 because of oil and gas com-

Giant Horse Mackerel Tows Boat 11 Hours

PORTLAND, Maine, Aug. 18.—(UP)—A giant horse mackerel, Jay Holmes, wealthy New York sportsman and nephew of the late Charles Fleischman, related today, towed an 18-foot motorboat on which he and a party of friends were fishing around Portland harbor for 11 hours.

Missing overnight, the small power launch arrived alongside Holmes' yacht Ajax this afternoon and then was recounted the story of how the fish, said to have weighed more than a quarter of a ton, was harpooned near Portland lightship and made a desperate, successful attempt to escape.

petition, and coal would be eliminated as a competitor if rates were raised.

Charles E. Cotterill, general counsel for the Southern Traffic League, took the position that the railroads' condition was due more to a loss of 65 per cent of their passenger traffic than to industrial depression. He said truck competition in the higher grades of tonnage also was a factor. He said a permanent advance of rates instead of a temporary emergency hike, would be required "or else the railroad management must radically change its thought and attitude toward meeting the changed conditions."

CARS REROUTED FOR BRIDGE REPAIR

COLONIAL PRICE SLASH EXPLAINED BY MILLER

Baking Head Says Low Cost of Flour Has Been Passed on to Consumer.

The Lee Baking Company's reduction in the price of the Colonial "twisted loaf" from 10 cents to 8 cents, effective last Monday morning, was the first step taken by a large bakery in Atlanta to reduce bread prices. At the same time, an increase in size for the standard loaf, without a corresponding increase in price, has enabled housewives to count on several extra slices before purchase of a new loaf is necessary.

"I feel it is timely to explain why we are able to reduce the price," O. W. Miller, president of the company, makers of Colonial breads and cakes, stated Tuesday. "As you know, flour is cheap. I do not rejoice at this condition because cheap flour means low prices for wheat, and that means losses to the farmer. However, the arrival of shipments of low-priced flour makes it possible to readjust our prices, and so we are passing this low cost on to the consumer in our new schedule of prices."

Colonial breads and cakes have shown a remarkable growth since their first production in Atlanta three years ago. The Lee Baking Company's well-equipped plant at 211 Moreland avenue is being visited by many persons who wish to take advantage of Mr. Miller's invitation to inspect the home of these well-known products.

Ramspeck Warns Of Soviet Growth In Rotary Address

To combat the injurious effects of the five-year plan of soviet Russia and to offset the spread of communism in the United States a greater distribution of money must be effected in the United States, Representative Robert Ramspeck told the Rotary Club at its regular weekly luncheon meeting held Tuesday.

"Less than one-sixteenth of the corporations in America control between 40 and 45 per cent of the country's capital," Congressman Ramspeck said. "With a few thousand men controlling these big companies, almost half of the country's wealth is in their hands."

"Unemployment must be solved by the businessmen, or it will come to the dole system here as in England. Big companies must reduce their dividends as well as their salaries. The loss then will fall on those who are more able to bear it."

U.S. COBANS CLAIM REBEL VICTORIES

Tampa Sympathizers Declare Censorship Has Held Back Real News.

TAMPA, Fla., Aug. 18.—(AP)—A decisive victory for the Cuban revolutionaries was reported today by Lieutenant Rafael Reyna, exiled officer of the Cuban navy, based on advice received from several sources.

"President Machado and the federal troops in Santa Clara province have let themselves be cut off from Havana by the revolutionary forces," he said. "Unless the president can escape to the capital by an airplane he will be captured within 48 hours. The federalists in Santa Clara have not themselves 'on the spot.' The rebels are encamped to the west and north of Machado's position, the only outlets in the province.

"The government denies all such reports and is enforcing a strict censorship of information, but we have been informed that federal troops are joining in the rebel movement and within 72 hours have taken cities."

"Such successes indicate that trained men under a capable leader are in the campaign against the Machado government. The rebels are in Guantánamo, San Miguel de Perdon, and other cities. They hold Guines, within an hour's ride of Havana. Lives and property of foreigners are being protected, however." A call issued today for a meeting tonight of revolutionary sympathizers was to plan ways and means of aiding the movement in the island republic, said its sponsors. A revolutionary junta will be formed and officers selected.

DECISIVE BATTLE LOOMS IN ISLES' EASTERN AREA

HAVANA, Cuba, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Havana this evening believed—with apparent reason—that a decisive battle looms in the island's eastern province.

A revolutionary expedition landed at Gibara, in upper Oriente province, last night, it was reported here. The ship was said to be the Frederick II, of German registry, with 500 men and scores of machine guns aboard. The government, admitting unofficially that the boat landed, believed it had the expeditionaries bottled up.

Two hundred soldiers sent from Havana were joined in Santa Clara by 400 men stationed there and kept on eastward. Another report said that more expeditionaries landed on the upper Santa Clara coast. Rebels were said to have ditched the expeditionary force, but the latter was on a charge of the train south of Santa Clara.

In Havana, airtight censorship, both on intra-island and extra-island communication, remained. Army officers were stationed at all press wires and in all newspaper offices. Cables were sent to army headquarters for revision. Newspapers had to have their proofs approved by army headquarters and afterward the first copies of the newspaper itself blueprinted by the interior secretary.

Colonel Hevia, his wife, and Dr. Santiago Murallé were captured late today in a drug store in Colon, Matanzas province.

Still at large of the five principal rebel leaders are Colonel Roberto Mendez Penate and Miguel Mariano Gomez, former Havana mayor.

Regarding the Santa Clara military situation, General Alberto Riquelme said today "only small groups remain, none greater than 50 men, not all armed, who flee encounters with troops."

Writing for the Market Bulletin, Commissioner Talmadge suggested that Georgia farmers pick the cotton and store it until prices have improved. "If you don't have a cotton house, pick your cotton and put it on your front porch," he said. "Put some planks down in the field and pile your cotton on them and then put something over it. . . . If you will hold them up a month and also hold down the United States gin report, cotton will go up. If you have to give your cotton away to get it picked, do not pick it."

takes immediate steps to purchase cotton of this year's crop and curtail production next year.

Senator George suggested, in another telegram directed to the farm board, that cotton of the 1931 crop be purchased for 12 cents a pound, 6 cents a bushel, and an additional 6 cents in October, 1932, to planters "who will agree not to plant, finance or permit to be planted to cotton on any lands controlled by them in 1932."

From his home here Senator George sent the following wire to the federal farm board:

"In present acute emergency let me urge the board to immediately announce that it will pay 6 cents cash and issue certificates in like amount due October 1 next year for middling cotton grown and owned by actual planters who will agree not to plant, finance or permit to be planted to cotton on any lands controlled by them in 1932. I suggest 12 cents, but urge consideration of principle on any fair basis."

In addition to explaining his suggestion in his telegram to the president, Senator George also told Mr. Hoover that "the same principle can be applied to wheat. The emergency is acute and widespread and unless the board acts vigorously, earnestly urge a special session of congress."

LONG SETS CONFERENCE FOR FRIDAY MORNING

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Encouraged by the response to his proposal to prohibit the raising of any cotton next season as a relief measure, Governor Huey P. Long said today he would hold a south-wide cotton conference at 10 a. m. Friday at the Roosevelt hotel.

He said he expected each of the 14 cotton growing states to send a representative, either the governor or a member of the legislature. The plan has been mixed. Favorable, unfavorable and non-committal.

"Ninety-five per cent of the farming and business interests and two-thirds of the public officials will have this far expressed themselves," Governor Long said, "are inclined favorably to a plan to stop the raising of cotton altogether next year."

The Ewing newspapers in New Orleans, Shreveport and Monroe, which have been opposing Long and his issues, suggested in a long polemic editorial today that the cotton states send representatives to seriously consider the plan or to evolve some other plan. The editorial said that the plan of the New Orleans Item and Morning Tribune, endorsed the Long plan in a statement.

The official lineup of the Long plan follows: For: Governor Blackwood, of South Carolina; Representative Brand, of Georgia; Senator Fletcher, of Florida; Representative Hall, of Mississippi; Representative Rene L. Berouen, of Louisiana.

Against: Governor Miller, of Alabama; Governor Bilbo, of Mississippi; Governor Horton, of Tennessee; Senator Caraway, of Arkansas; Director McInnis, of the Mississippi department of agriculture.

FULTON COUNTY BILLS ARE LOST

resent a majority view of the grand jury but were the personal opinion of Tom Pitts, foreman.

Still declared that the presentments of the grand jury were the work of a few "nit-wits" who did not represent that body as a whole. He read a letter from a member of the grand jury stating that he did not concur in the "Pitts recommendations," and said that he had other similar letters.

Still was joined in his defense of the Fulton county officers by Representative Paul Lindsay, of DeKalb, and Honorable Gullatt, of Campbell. Lindsay said that the regulations provided by the substitute would so hamper the commission that it could not properly transact the county's business.

Eckford pleaded for adoption of the bills, declaring "that with McRae he was sent to the general assembly by the people of Fulton to get the reforms passed."

The house was repeatedly thrown into an uproar by sallies of the debaters and other representatives. In spite of requests by the chair for adherence to the house rule against applause, Representative Cartledge, of Richmond, gave vent to his anger when he urged the house to "let Fulton county wash her own dirty linen."

Waste Charged.

Proponents of the so-called reform bills were encouraged late Tuesday when the Fulton county grand jury asserted that the operations of the county were bad from top to bottom and that the waste of funds had reached gigantic proportions.

The presentments, including a last-minute appeal for action on Fulton county bills, were made at the assembly, the governor, newspapers and citizens generally, came as a surprise at the courthouse.

Asserting that probably no county in the state of the union spent more "unnecessarily a larger percentage of its taxpayers' money," the presentments said:

"These conditions begin with the ballot boxes at the polls and extend throughout its entire system and operation. Grand jury after grand jury has been called, the members of the grand jury have been discarded, such conditions and unless the people rise to the situation our officials' greed and collusion will never end."

Members of the rules committee Tuesday morning placed four of the Fulton county bills at the tail end of the day's calendar. It was apparent, with several statewide bills pending, that the grand jury's handiwork would not be advanced by special order.

McRae moved, as soon as the calendar had been announced, for a night session to consider the bills. Only Representative Paul Lindsay, on a point of order, secured a division of the question and the house first voted to hold the night session. On a roll call the house voted, 105 to 62, to set the bills.

The presentments of the Fulton county grand jury, signed by Thomas H. Pitts, foreman, and by William H. Williams, secretary, came somewhat as a surprise. The paper read:

"The grand jury, July 1931 term, is impressed with the serious efforts of the Fulton county representatives toward legislation that would result in greater economy in the administration of the county affairs. We commend the efforts of our representatives most heartily to our citizens. While some bills introduced by them may not meet with unanimous approval, we believe it best for this county that all of these bills have immediate consideration and action by our general assembly. It would be a disgrace to the county if they remain for another two years in their present state. We appeal to the governor of our state, the legislators and senators to take prompt action on the bills of the Fulton county to use their influence to the end that bills for reform of the county be brought before the house and senate for a final vote before adjournment."

"From all information at hand it seems that the operation of the county has been a waste of its funds has reached gigantic proportions. We doubt if any county in any state in the union spends unnecessarily in salaries from 10 to 25 per cent more than it should. We remain for another two years in their present state. We appeal to the governor of our state, the legislators and senators to take prompt action on the bills of the Fulton county to use their influence to the end that bills for reform of the county be brought before the house and senate for a final vote before adjournment."

"This grand jury has already filed presentments recommending reductions in salaries from 10 to 25 per cent, which we consider very nominal under present day conditions. As a matter of fact, some of the grand jury members believe they would still be well paid for the services rendered. A good many could be eliminated altogether to the extent, we believe, a total of $500,000 per annum could be saved. Honest efforts seem to be under way in reducing our state and municipal pay rolls, and unless Fulton county authorities arise to the situation enough evidence is already at hand to authorize operating receivers to be put in charge until the unnecessary waste of our money is stopped."

The house bill requiring the Fulton county commission to appropriate $240,000 a year to support of the county board of education was approved Tuesday by the senate. The bill, introduced by Representative Frank R. Coy, commander of the fourth corps area, taken aboard as a passenger and then proceeded to Shreveport, La., and Brownsville, and Galveston, Texas, for an inspection of air activities at those points. The general's plane was accompanied by another plane. Both of them were emblazoned on the side of the fuselage with a replica of the Capitol dome.

Gene Brown, veteran Eastern Air Transport mail pilot and last surviving member of the "Three Musketeers," Kytell, Molloy and Brown—who inaugurated Pitkin's mail line to New York a few years ago, today will assume, for a time, his rank as a pilot in the air corps reserve and fly to Birmingham and return in a Douglas O-2H. He will be accompanied by a mechanic, Brown, whose duties as night mail pilot keeps him pretty well occupied, was unable to attend any of the reserve camps at Candler field this year because of lack of time.

Flying in a last army Flettner, Major General James E. Fechet, chief of the air corps, landed at Candler field Tuesday morning, rested for a short while, saw Major General Frank R. Coy, commander of the fourth corps area, taken aboard as a passenger and then proceeded to Shreveport, La., and Brownsville, and Galveston, Texas, for an inspection of air activities at those points. The general's plane was accompanied by another plane. Both of them were emblazoned on the side of the fuselage with a replica of the Capitol dome.

OUSTER ACTION FACED
BY TWIGGS SHERIFF*Fund Shortage, Making False Arrest and Other Offenses Charged.

JEFFERSONVILLE, Ga., Aug. 18. (AP)—Charged with a shortage of the county's funds, making a false arrest, shooting a negro in the back "with out provocation," and a number of minor offenses, Sheriff Samuel G. Kitchens, of Twiggs county, Monday will face a special jury here to defend himself in impeachment proceedings.

Judge Earl Camp, of Dublin, will preside at the trial, to which approximately 75 witnesses have been summoned to testify.

G. Frank Cannon, prominent farmer and a former member of the board of roads and revenue, instituted the charges against Sheriff Kitchens, declaring the county officer threatened his (Mr. Cannon's) life three months ago when he went to the county jail to furnish bond for a prisoner. Mr. Cannon charges that Sheriff Kitchens drew a pistol on him.

It also is charged in the proceedings that Sheriff Kitchens shot Lawrence Lawler, negro, in the back, and as he ran across the courthouse lawn Sheriff Kitchens is said to have fired, emptying a load of buckshot in Lawler's back. No offense was charged to the negro, it was said.

Still another charge centers around the alleged false arrest of Clifford Martin, a young negro, by mistake. Sheriff Kitchens is said to have held a warrant for the arrest of one D. Martin. He went out in search for the man, and went to the home of Clifford Martin, a young negro, and arrested him.

It is charged that the officer drew his pistol on Martin, carried him outside the house, and forced the young man's grandmother to hand over a large sum of money. Sheriff Kitchens is said to have started to jail with his victim, short distance from Jeffersonville the officer became convinced, it was said, that he had the wrong man.

He is said to have put Martin out of the automobile 14 miles from his home, forcing him to walk. The shortage in the officer's accounts is said to approximate $275 or $280.

All the charges are included in Mr. Cannon's complaint, but some of them were filed by other citizens, it was said.

Sheriff Kitchens has held the office for two and a half years, having defeated Sheriff E. J. Griffin at the last election.

The impeachment proceedings will be prosecuted by Solicitor Fred Ken, of Dublin; former Solicitor E. L. Stephens, of Dublin, and H. F. Griffin Jr., Jeffersonville attorney.

GEORGIANS ARE URGED TO GROW TRUCK CROPS*New Program for Farmers
Advocated by Produce Exchange.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Aug. 18.—Under the heading, "What Waycross Can Do," the newly-elected officers and directors of the Southeast Georgia Produce Exchange today addressed a statement to the farmers and business men of this section, emphasizing the opportunity that is presented in the growing of truck crops.

The statement follows: "The railroad company's pay roll has declined until it is more than its former self, and no one knows what's coming next, however much the company would like to be doing the business each week and sell the pay roll of 10 years ago."

"Tobacco growers and cotton growers are busted, and disgusted, the prices on both commodities having gone on the rocks; the naval stores business has gone to smash, and the problem in south Georgia now is: what will be the next move."

"What you can do is this: There is a steady demand for vegetable products, and the system of distribution in use at the present time makes it possible to assemble and ship 100 or several hundred hampers, barrels or packages of vegetables at the curb market each day or at a given time each week, and sell the produce for cash at reasonable prices."

Vegetables Not Produced.
"During the past several weeks thousands of hampers of vegetables could have been sold at good prices, but the stuff was not produced."

"The situation just now with many farmers is critical. Something must be done to try to cope with the situation. Vegetables constitute the quickest crop that can be grown, and in an effort to bring some relief, the Southeast Georgia Produce Exchange has been reorganized and is now signing up acreage for the fall and winter plantings of beans, cucumbers, squash, melons, cabbage, onions, beets, radishes, lettuce and other vegetable produce."

"It is not the plan of the exchange to divert an overproduction of any one thing, but to get as many farmers as possible to plant smaller quantities and greater variety."

Heavy Program.
"The program is a big one, and a fast-moving one. Planting season is upon us, and there is no time to lose. It is an important matter, one that merits the immediate moral and financial support of every civic and commercial organization, the city and the county."

"Factories come perhaps, but our soil and climate have with us always, both conducive to the development along the line of truck growing. It is something we can do. The curb market has blazed the way, and a great industry is possible. The possibilities are unlimited. We can make Waycross a great truck-growing and marketing center if the forces will unite and give the project the co-operation it merits."

The statement is signed by A. J. Moran, president; L. D. James, vice president; N. W. Strickland, treasurer; J. S. Elkins, secretary; H. T. Jeffords, W. C. Callahan, J. V. Muegge, W. W. Strickland, L. E. Hughes and J. E. Thomas, directors.

DIVERSIFICATION SEEN
AS STATE'S SALVATION*Horace McDowell Advocates
Mixed Farming as Cure for Economic Ills.

WAYCROSS, Ga., Aug. 18.—"Prosperity in Georgia depends on the extent of farm diversification," asserted Horace McDowell, manager of the Swift & Co. packing plants at Moultrie and Atlanta, in an address before the Waycross Rotary Club.

Mr. McDowell said in part: "This year has brought low prices for agricultural products. That means it will take several years to work back to prosperity in this section. The remedy is mixed farming. Southwest Georgia already is diversifying its farm crops. We have done this not by ceasing to grow anything but by adding other crops and by adding live stock production."

"We are growing more cotton on less acreage and it costs less per acre to grow. We are getting heavier yields per acre."

"We have added the production of tobacco. We have increased the production of watermelons. We have gone in for hogs."

"We are firmly convinced that tobacco has grown cheaply and of good quality and that the years to come will find tobacco paying the farmer a handsome profit."

MORE FEED AND LIVE STOCK.

"Above all, we are going in for more feed and more live stock. There is no danger of an over-supply in hog production. We produce only 25 per cent of the pork we consume."

"In pork production we have an advantage. We can produce pork cheaper than they can in any other section. We are the only section in the world that can produce peanut-fed pork. On peanut-fed pork we have a monopoly."

"In my opinion, peanut-fed pork is far better than western pork. It has a distinctive flavor. We are going to raise more peanut-fed pork. We should plant more feed crops, we should breed our hog breeds, we should learn how to keep the hog herd free from internal parasites and we should finish our hogs better."

"My company is endeavoring to pay more for hogs. We are now paying only one and one-half cents per pound under the Chicago average. We are appropriating $50,000 a year to advertise and popularize peanut-fed pork. We need the co-operation of the farmer in increasing hog production. The markets are close at hand—one in Moultrie and one in Atlanta."

Violin Solo.
Preceding the address by Mr. McDowell, a violin solo was given by Kendall Zelliff, Vice President L. B. Harrell presided.

Among those present were Tom Spaulding, Harry Jewett, C. D. Herford, Dan Lott, Ernest Lewis, Marcus Sweet, Carl Brown, S. G. Coleman, W. B. Thompson, J. M. Norman, J. H. Bennett, D. J. Wagner, D. S. FRIENDLY COUNSEL BY CAROLINE CHATFIELD

Problems of general interest submitted by readers will be discussed in this column. Correspondence invited. Your name held in confidence. Write Miss Chatfield, care The Atlanta Constitution.

Passing through a store the other day I heard this conversation between two well-dressed young women:

"Why does she treat him so outlandishly?"
"Because she makes more money than he does, that's why, and it makes me furious."
With those two sentences the shoppers disposed of the family affairs of one couple of their acquaintance and with those two sentences they sketched a pretty picture for a stranger to look at. A man cowed because he couldn't make as much money as his wife. A wife contemptuous of her husband because she could beat him at his own game. The two of them wretched and miserable over the mere matter of money.

No, that woman doesn't treat her husband outlandishly because she makes more money than he. She treats him outlandishly if she really does, because she is a bully. They are not all men, these bullies. Some of them are very soft and feminine in appearance but they believe their looks, and he takes this outlandish treatment, not because he makes less money but because of an inherent weakness which is the cause of his making less money and the cause of his willingness to be bullied. It is possible that the question of money offers this couple to show their hands, but it doesn't change their hands. They remain the same regardless of salary.

I can't see any excuse for all the excited talk about the entrance of women into business. Business doesn't change them. The woman who bullies her husband because she makes more money than he didn't make enough if she were at home waiting for him to come in every evening. And the man who cannot make as big a salary as his wife is working just as hard for what he gets as he would be working if she were at home.

Changed economic conditions don't change human nature one iota. The hen-pecking, bully opened to women or professions either, for that matter. The unsuccessful, shy, shrinking husband, whose very attitude invites disrespect, whose talk sounds like an apology for living, appeared in the novels and on the stage long before typewriters were invented, or feminine fingers had found the keyboard.

Husbands and wives have been bickering about money ever since it was coined and the question of who brings it in has little to do with it. Of course, business makes one quite so independent as the change in the pocket and money in the bank. As long as that condition obtains you can go where you want to go and get what you want to get of material things but even such independence doesn't make you less considerate of those you love or more considerate of those you don't love. It doesn't make a woman treat her husband outlandishly, if he cares for him. If she doesn't love him anything will make her treat him in this fashion.

A LESSON IN FREEZING.

BY THORNTON W. BURGESS.

If you know what to do and do it. You seldom will have cause to rue it.

—Mrs. Forkhorn.

These were wonderful and happy days for the little Forkhorns and equally happy but anxious days for Mother Forkhorn. The twins were growing stronger every day and able to jump a little higher every day. They did not jump as high as they could but they were growing. Each would try to outjump the other and Mother would look on approvingly. She knew out of her own experience that the ability to travel fast through rough, broken country where it is one jump after another would be the means of saving their lives often even when they were grown. So it was rarely that she led them down to the level land of the valley. There a Coyote or Howler the Wolf might run one of them down, but not on the rough hillsides.

Just as she stepped out into the open she saw Farmer Brown's boy step out from the brush on the other side. Instantly she froze. She didn't dodge back into the brush. She simply froze right there in the open. Had she been carved from stone she could have been no more motionless. Farmer Brown's boy saw her as she stepped out and he, too, froze.

"I believe that is a deer over there," he muttered. "Anyway, I thought I saw something move."

No he waited a couple of minutes. The thing across on the other side of the opening looked more and more like a stump.

"It is a stump," said he, and start-

POPULAR MODEL FOR MATRONS.

The cross-over lines need no introduction. They disguise weight with out a tell tale. The one-sidedness of the bodice with softly falling jabot never deserves mention, for it so beautifully detracts from breadth. There is still another important slimming point—the clever arrangement of the skirt fulness, concentrated at the front.

In black and white crepe silk print, it's especially smart for all-day occasions.

Style No. 273 is designed in sizes 36, 38, 40, 42, 44, 46 and 48 inches bust. Size 36 requires 4-1/4 yards of 39-inch material with 3-8 yard of 10-1/2 inch lace and 5-8 yard of 35-1/2 inch lining.

COLUMBIA COMPANY PLANS BIG EXPANSION

A. A. Trostler, General Sales Manager, Confers With Head of Atlanta Branch.

A. A. Trostler, general sales manager for the Columbia Phonograph Company, Inc., of New York, was in Atlanta Tuesday conferring with Westervelt Terhune, manager of the Atlanta branch, regarding an expansion program which calls for the distribution of radios, electric refrigerators and other commodities through Columbia's numerous branches throughout the country.

The new policy, adopted in an effort to prevent seasonal fluctuations in business felt by the dealer handling only music supplies, will include distribution of the Fada radio, and the Norge electric refrigerator. Other items of the electric utility class which lend themselves to year-round selling will also be added, Mr. Trostler announced.

Again the radio is well known and is designed to fit in with standard Columbia sets, it was announced. Five models embracing a wide price range are offered this year and will be augmented about September 1 by the introduction of four Columbia radio models ranging from $37.50 to $87.50, according to Mr. Trostler.

Culbertson on Contract

BY ELY CULBERTSON,
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

Progressive Contract Bridge

Since I started this series of articles I have had numerous requests for an article dealing with the play of Progressive Contract Bridge.

This is a form of the game with which I am not especially familiar through practice, the rules laid down below will be found to cover the different questions which arise during a Bridge party.

To answer those who say that Contract Bridge will never replace a progressive play at afternoon Bridge parties will give, briefly, the popular method of scoring and play.

From letters received and general comment, it is evident that many Contract players are unfamiliar with the rules in force governing Progressive Contract. Couched in the usual formal language, the laws permit of several choices on points of minor importance. The methods suggested here are the most popular by usage.

Tally cards assign partners and tables. Each tally should have two columns: one headed "My Score," the other, "Opponent's Score." A round consists of four deals, as in Auction.

At the end of the round the scores are totaled and the losers subtracted from the winners', and a bonus of 250 points given to the winning side. In the event of a tie, each side is given 125 points. If this is the case, the actual score for the play would be 125 points for both sides, but the tally card would show the bonus of 125 points.

Winners advance from the bottom table toward the top. Losers at the first, or head table, move to the foot.

Should a hand be passed, the same Dealer must deal the next hand. Cards after they have been shuffled by the player on the Dealer's left and cut by the player on the Dealer's right.

It is important to arbitrarily decide, before play begins, that the first deal will be played and all scores counted as if neither side is vulnerable; the second and third deals played and scored as if the Dealer and partner are vulnerable; and the fourth deal is played and scored as if both sides are vulnerable.

Usage requires "game in hand," as in Progressive Auction. The side making game scores 300 points if not vulnerable and 500 if vulnerable.

To illustrate the scoring: First deal—Partner, North, you, South, bid and make three hearts.

Second deal—Opponent, east, bids four spades and is set 1 trick, doubled, vulnerable.

Third deal—You, South, bid four spades and make five with four honors in hand, vulnerable.

Fourth deal—Opponent, East, bids and makes a Small Slam in diamonds, vulnerable.

The score pad would show:

We They
90—three hearts
200—set of four spades
125—four spades
50—extra trick
100—honors
500—game bonus, vulnerable

six diamonds—120
game bonus, vulnerable—500
Slam bonus, vulnerable—750

1080 (totals) 1370
1060
(net) 310
"winner's bonus" 250

Total 560
Your tally would then read:
My score Opponent's Score
0 560

At the end of play, the difference between the two columns is your score for the day.

All of the additional lure that Contract holds over Auction is reflected in Progressive play. I was greatly surprised to learn that many who play only at afternoon parties felt that Contract couldn't be adopted to progressive, and it is for this reason that I have given the plan most prevalent throughout the country today.

TODAY'S POINTER.
The Value of the Average Hand in Tricks.

In each suit an Ace, a King, a Queen and one or two Jacks, or a total of four higher honors, is the average share of each player before the hands are seen. Such an average hand is worth 1 trick for the Ace, and 1 trick for the King and Queen in different suits with a Knave as a "plus" value making in all 2 honor trick plus a Knave—which is the working equivalent of the average hand in terms of honor-tricks. This basic assumption furnishes the player with a simple yardstick to measure the relative honor strength of any hand and, through honor-tricks, assists materially in estimating the game or penalty expectancy of any bid.

Alvah B. Richardson, 56, retired executive of the Young Men's Christian Association, died Tuesday night at his home at 216 Lyle avenue, College Park, following a long illness.

Through his affiliation with Y. M. C. A. work for nearly 30 years Mr. Richardson had gained a wide acquaintance in various sections of the country where he had served as executive secretary. City Amateur Golf Plans To Be Completed Thursday Night; Helen Leads Women's Advance; Grant Enters Quarter-Finals

Praise, from some of our admittedly important minds, continues to sound, and in more than considerable quantities, too, for the two young English ladies who left the eastern tennis tournament flat last week.

Miss Joan Ridley and Mrs. Elise Pittman, close friends, appeared in the finals. They each won a set. And then gracefully shook hands and quit the court.

This naturally caused no end of consternation among the officials. They insisted that there must be a champion.

The two English ladies said that they did not care for titles, that they were going to play for their team in the afternoon and did not bother about the singles championship at all. There was no need, they said, for two friends to play until one had won.

The confused officials pointed out that the cash customers had paid money to see them.

The two ladies said they were amateurs and playing for the fun of the game and that they did not care if the customers had paid money. They were not interested.

That was their story and they stuck to it.

OH, MOST UN-AMERICAN.

This is, of course, very un-American. In America we demand a champion. The critics of our sports system have had a merry week-end, pointing fingers and crying shame and telling us how fine is the English idea of sport and not victory.

There are any number of people who do not believe that there is any marmalade worth eating unless it was made in England; and that no clothes look well unless they were tailored on Bond street; and that our sport credo is savage and hypocritical.

Well, and maybe. The exploitation of some of our visiting track stars has been pretty bad. And the tennis situation was at times laughable as the tennis association sought to control Mr. Tilden. Our amateurs are being harried into "turning honest" as some of the boys would have it. There is a great hue and cry which amounts to very little.

It all depends on one's definition of what an amateur is and there are any number of definitions. There is one which says an amateur is one who won't take a check. And there are others.

At any rate we might try to silence the critics by adopting the English system.

I SYE, FAWNCY THIS!

For the sake of argument we will assume that Tech and Georgia are tied next fall at the end of the first half when they meet at Athens to settle the state gridiron question. Of course, some one will have to keep the score in these vulgar American games. But we will assume they are tied and that it can be proved.

The boys would then lock hands and skip off the field, embracing each other and singing, "What Jolly Good Friends Are We."

Mr. Rex Enright, of Georgia, and Mr. Roy Mundorff, of Tech, are now considering the problem. They have about agreed that if their basketball teams are all even at the end of the half next winter that they will simply quit playing and all go around the corner and have a cup of tea together.

We do not want to settle the question of supremacy. It isn't cricket. What we want is sport for sport's sake and not for victory. (Sez you!)

The English idea, of course, may be all right for England. But for America it is ouselay, as the boys say. It always pained a lot of us to hear that we are all wrong because our ideas aren't like England's. Well, what of it? What if we do lose competition? What if we do have the will to win?

Let's twist the jolly old Lion's tail. Most of his athletes are punk, anyhow.

Why? Because they can't win anything.

TIGER RAG JEWELL.

Tiger Jewell grinned right in through the door today to say that he was back in Dixie and fighting in Atlanta next week.

Lands sakes. The last time I saw the Tiger Rag he was in the ring at Geauga Lake, Ohio, getting cuffed about by W. L. (Young) Stribling.

The Tiger appeared one evening along toward the day of the fight, when things were getting tense about the camp and no one was laughing.

The Tiger, a colored middleweight, was to show Stribling some speed. He wore a peculiar headgear that night, did the Tiger. It had a sort of visor in front. Stribling cuffed this down over the Tiger's eyes with a couple of pawing blows and there was the Tiger—Blindfolded in the ring with a heavyweight who was going to fight Mistuh Max Schmeling for the world's title. What a fix to be in!

There was the Tiger trying to duck imaginary blows and take off the blindfold with boxing gloves on his hands.

The crowd became right fond of the Tiger then and there. He got off the blindfold without being murdered, as he was sure he would be. He stuck in there, trying to hit Stribling.

The Tiger is a tryer. He should give his opponent some trouble next week when they meet.

Probably no other fighter was ever caught taking a blindfold test in the ring with a man training for the world's heavyweight title.

The Tiger reports that things are not so well in Ohio. He has turned his feet back toward Dixie. He looked well-fed, in shape and ready. The Tiger should be worth the admission price next week.

THE BIG TRAIN ROBBERY.

"I have just had my supper on the train," Joe Gerson wrote Major Trammell Scott while en route to the recent sandlot baseball tournament at Jackson. "I paid 35 cents for potato salad and 25 cents for ice cream. That is not highway robbery. That is train robbery."

Joe Gerson was the representative of the Trammell Scott company. Joe's team lost out in the race. He was given his ticket and $20.

Joe filed his expense account Tuesday. He spent $42.60. "I wish I had some traveling salesman who traveled like

CITY AMATEUR HEADS TO MAKE TOURNAMENT PLANS

Officials Will Meet at Capital City on Thursday Night.

Definite plans for the annual city amateur golf championship tournament to begin September 1 on the Druid Hills course, will be completed at 6 o'clock Thursday night at a meeting of the Capital City Club at a meeting of the Atlanta Golf Association. Confirmation of the directors selected by the various clubs also will feature the business session.

Robert H. Martin is president of the newly organized Atlanta golf body and J. C. Conway, veteran East Lake tournament chief, has been appointed chairman of the city tournament committee.

In addition to the annual city event, directors of the club plan to sponsor a senior tournament late in October and also to hold four major events during next year.

Each private golf club, the Municipal Golfers' Association, and the professional golfers will have their own time ago to select a representative for the board of directors of the Atlanta association.

Nine Atlantans To Play at Albany.

Nine Atlanta golfers will leave the city early next week for Albany, Ga., where they will participate in the annual Radium Springs invitation golf tournament. The tournament will start Wednesday and continue through Saturday.

L. R. Hunter, popular East Lake golfer, is the defending champion and will be one of the strong favorites to retain his title.

In addition to Hunter, other Atlantans entered include Bruce Morgan, Johnny Adamson, Bob Griffin, Ross Durant, B. Shields, Travis Johnson, Larry Caudill and Dan Sage Jr. Others are expected to enter before the week has passed.

Invitations have been mailed to every private golf club in Georgia and adjoining states and more than 125 entries are expected to compete. It is annually one of the feature events of the year for south Georgia golfers and extensive preparations are being made to make it one of the most successful tournaments in the history of the popular Radium Springs course.

Officials of the club are leaving no stone unturned in preparing for the visitors. In addition to the four days of golf there will be numerous social functions during the early evenings.

Youngsters Play at West End.

George Carry was medalist Tuesday in the qualifying rounds of the first annual junior golf championship of the West End Club. He shot a 79 and will meet Mattie Matthews today in the first-round match.

It is the first time in the club's history that such a tourney has been attempted. Seventeen players will compete. A championship flight of eight and another of nine players was formed.

Gene Cook, Georgia open golf champion and Atlanta's entry in the fifth national amateur tournament August 31 at Chicago, Ill., will give a large trophy to the winner of the event.

Cook has always been interested in West End youngsters and it was through his co-operation with Albert Jones, the club professional, that the junior tournament was arranged.

The pairings:

FIRST FLIGHT.
George Carry vs. Tom Matthews.
Jack Ennis vs. John O'Neill.
A. Gottsman vs. James Whittington.
D. Hazledine vs. Claude Smith.

SECOND FLIGHT.
J. Womack vs. V. Mankie.

Mrs. Burns Leads In Pajama Tourney.

Mrs. Roy Burns, with a net 78, set the pace Tuesday morning on the Druid Hills course in a one-day pajama golf tournament for members of the Atlanta Women's Golf Association. Mrs. Burns had a gross of 101 but hit 23 handicap strokes, she led the field.

Mrs. Guy Butler, with a net of 80, won second prize and Mrs. Mark Larned was third with an 81 net. The tournament drew 20 women and was the first event of its kind ever held in the city. Honors for the best looking pajamas were equally shared.

Munday Leads Sports Writers.

Bill Munday, of the Journal, took the lead Tuesday in the 36-hole medal play tournament on the Sweetwater course for Atlanta sports writers with a net score of 85 for the first 18 holes. His gross score was 105.

It will be a handicap affair and qualifying scores in the recent newspaper golf tournament will be used. The course will be used to determine the handicaps.

Howard Land, owner of the Sweetwater course, and Douglas Lynn, former newspaper golf champion, are sponsoring the event, which will end with a chicken dinner. Prizes will be given to the winner and runner-up.

McLarnin, Petrolle Ready for Thursday

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—Ready for their "rubber" 10-round bout at the Yankee stadium Thursday night, Billy Petrolle and Jimmy McLarnin went through their final work-outs today.

It will be the third time the two slugger heavyweights have met. Petrolle upset the dope in their first bout, winning the decision, but McLarnin outpointed the Fargo Express in a return fight.

Chicks Beat Crackers, 7 to 2

Officials Will Meet at Capital City on Thursday Night.

Four innings of poor pitching by Joe Keifer and none-too-bright support by his mates over the same period put the Memphis Crackers out in front Tuesday night and they counted on to beat the Chicks, 7 to 2.

Keifer gave up eight hits in four innings, walked three men, hit a batsman and uncorked a wild pitch. He was the victim of a passed ball and an error.

Six runs came over in those four innings. The Chicks made another error when John Morrison balked with a man on third. John Morrison was in misery because the boys behind him were not on their toes. He was so pestered at a faro to cover third on a sacrifice that he balked in a run.

BARRON HOMERS.
John, Carlisle, finished the game, working one inning. Steaming Steingraffe, the Memphis pitcher, had the situation well in hand all the way.

Once Red Barron hit a home run. That was in the third. In the first the Crackers had made a run by bunching three of their seven hits. And that was all. In the last six innings the Crackers got but one hit off Steingraffe.

There were more rookies in the Cracker lineup than one could shake a stick at. And truth compels the statement that they looked as good as the regulars.

AMOS MARTIN LOOKS GOOD.
Amos Martin worked at third for a while. Jim Pearson, from Brunswick, appeared at short. He handled 17 chances and muffed three. Considering the fact that it was his first night game and his first professional game all rolled into one, his fielding showing was good. At bat he looked weak, popping out twice and striking out a third time. Now that he has had his baptism of fire he should steam.

Benjamin Rothstein was at first all the game. He looked very nice there. He is a good prospect, is Benjamin. He was in the lineup for the fourth round to perform for the Crackers.

The crowd, realizing early that the game was a foregone conclusion, turned out in force. The Crackers and the Memphis Crackers, they called them. Passed balls, errors, bases on balls and one single got the Chicks in the lead. It was a day-light game. It is the final appearance of the Crackers this season.

KEIFER INEFFECTIVE.
Keifer, who started for the Crackers, had nothing at all. He was just tossing them up there and hoping. The ball game was a scrambled affair while Joe was in.

The Chicks got one in the first on a triple and double by Gillis and Reese, respectively. Hutcherson hit a home run in the second. Passed balls, errors, bases on balls and one single got the Chicks in the lead. It was a day-light game. It is the final appearance of the Crackers this season.

With completion of second round singles late in the day, play was started in the doubles.

Other champions crowned during the afternoon were Ray Underwood, Corinth, Miss., doubles with 92 out of 100; Enoch Enslley, Memphis, Class A, 194 out of 200, and Dr. W. L. Stroup, Corinth, Miss., Class B, with 193 out of 200.

Tom Snowden, Tennessee state champion, broke 200 single targets, winning the decision, but McLarnin outpointed the Fargo Express in a return fight.

QUEEN IS GIVEN HARDEST FIGHT BY MARY GREEF

Mrs. Van Ryn Is Upset. Seven Britons Still in Play.

By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Sports Writer.

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—California's crack delegation, led by Helen Wills Moody, matched strides with the British brigade today as stars of the women's tennis sphere marched through the second round of the 44th annual championship tournament at Forest Hills.

At the close of the second day the 16 survivors lined up as follows: Great Britain, seven; California, five; Atlantic seaboard, four.

Although she had her hands full today in disposing of Mary Greef, of Kansas City, Queen Helen the First remained a top-heavy favorite to win her seventh national title, despite the strong showing of the British contingent. Outside of Betty Nuthall, who had swept through her first two matches in impressive style, the invaders do not have a member believed capable of extending Mrs. Moody.

BIGGEST THRILL.
Miss Greef supplied the gallery with its greatest thrill of the day when she fought Mrs. Moody a ding-dong battle for 38 minutes before succumbing, 6-2, 6-3.

The Kansas City player broke through Queen Helen's service twice in the second set and brought the score to three-all in games. They engaged in many sensational rallies, and it was only Mrs. Moody's superior strategy that enabled her to win. She maneuvered Miss Greef out of position time and again to win decisive points.

Helen Jacobs, California's No. 2 threat, moved into the third round with ease, defeating Virginia Rice, of Boston, 6-0, 6-2. Miss Nuthall whose crown they all coveted, disposed of Clara Greenbaum, of North York, 6-4, 6-0.

The members of the American seeded list, Mrs. John Van Ryn, Philadelphia, and Marjorie Morrill, of Dothan, Mass., failed to survive the second round. Mrs. Van Ryn was defeated by Sarah Palfrey, of Sharon, Mass., 1-6, 8-6, 6-1, in the major upset of the tournament thus far. Miss Morrill defaulted to Alice Francis, of Orange, N. J., after they had divided the first two sets of their match. She strained her back during the second set.

UNSEEDED PLAYERS.
As a result, two unseeded players still were in the running. Miss Francis and Virginia Hilleary, of Philadelphia.

All but two of the seven surviving British players came through the second round without the loss of a set. Mrs. D. C. Shepherd-Barron, captain of the British Wightman cup team, defeated Mianne Palfrey, sister of Sarah, 1-6, 6-3, 7-5, and Joan Ridley had to go three sets to down Lady Bishop, of Los Angeles, 6-3, 4-6, 6-0.

Mrs. L. A. Harper, of Oakland, Cal., No. 1 on the American ranking, defeated Norma Taulieu, of Forest Hills, 6-4, 6-3. Mrs. Marion Zinderstein Jessup conquered Margaret Casperken, of Morgantown, W. Va., 6-2, 6-0.

With completion of second round singles late in the day, play was started in the doubles.

Dempsey Not Fit For Title Chance, Stribling States

LOS ANGELES, Aug. 18.—(AP)—W. L. (Young) Stribling isn't optimistic over the chances of any present contender taking Max Schmeling's measure.

The Georgian, vacationing here, of course believes he can whip the 6-6, 160-pound champion, but he doesn't think Dempsey will ever get back into a championship campaign. "I don't think Dempsey will ever get back into a championship campaign," he said. "He always could hit, but he won't be as fast as he used to be, and if he can't land he'll probably be badly beaten."

Striker Jack Dempsey, Jack Sharkey, Primo Carnera, Mickey Walker and Tommy Loughran.

Lou Plays 1,000th Straight

How's that for a string of consecutive contests? Lou Gehrig, the Yankee's slugging first baseman, achieved the one thousand mark yesterday as the Yanks lost to Detroit, 5 to 4. "Columbia Lou" is now in a nip-and-tuck battle with Babe Ruth for home run honors. To date he has hit 32 and the Bambino has 33. Gehrig's consistent play over so long a period makes him one of the most valuable men in baseball. Box score on next page.

Cracker Club of 1919 Could Battle Barons

Present Birmingham Team Has Only One Rival in League History.

By Ralph McGill.

Atlanta's 1919 baseball club is the only one in the past history of the league which would give the Barons of 1931 a battle.

That was the mutual agreement of Bob Allen, veteran baseball man, and R. J. Spiller, one of the Cracker owners, as they discussed the situation pro and con Tuesday before Bob Allen went chugging off on some more baseball business.

"There have been better hitting clubs than these Barons," said Bob Allen. "And there have been better fielding clubs—maybe."

"But I have never seen a club that had all this one unless it was the Cracker club of 1919. The Barons hustle all the time. They have speed. They have smart pitching. They hit well. They have just about everything."

"Every now and then you hear someone say something about a 'balanced club,'" said Bob Allen. "It isn't often, however, that you see one."

"REALLY BALANCED."
"This Birmingham club is really balanced. It appears smooth. No one department seems better than the other. It works together with a perfection which carries it along even if one department isn't functioning so well. The club is so well 'balanced' that nothing appears wrong."

R. J. Spiller refused to believe the Barons would keep going, until they roared right on through July with no knocks sounding in the motor.

"On paper they looked like a fifth-place club," he said. "They got off to a start and kept on going. They were able to keep the club intact. No changes were necessary."

THESE CRACKERS.
"I don't think any club could have given them a battle unless it was our Crackers of 1919. The 1924 Atlanta team might have done it. There was a great club even if it didn't win the pennant."

That 1919 Cracker ball club has broken into print quite a lot since they won the flag for Atlanta.

It was a kid ball club, composed of youngsters who fought on, who had speed and dash, and enough veterans to keep them on the ground. It was the most popular team Atlanta ever had.

THE ROSTER.
Chick Galloway, Harry Farnau, Harden Hernden, Sammy Mayer, greatest of all minor league outfielders; Lena Strles, Bing Miller, Jimmy Dykes, Ivy Griffin, Bob Higgins, Tom Sheehan, Ray Roberts, who pitched a one-hit game; Joe Thorburn, who turned in a no-hit affair; Johnny Suggs and others were members of that team.

It was perhaps the most inexpensive team in years. Salaries were small that year. It was a team which saw itself getting ahead. The young players wanted to be sold and most of them were. Some are still going in the market.

It was a great ball club. And it would have given the Barons of 1931 a battle.

The Cracker officials are now thinking about sticking in a lot of young players and seeing what they can do.

The Barons, of course, aren't so young. They are experienced. But young players are more colorful and look better losing than some clubs do winning.

HALL TROUNCED IN THREE SETS BY YOUNGSTER

Sutter, Allison, Hughes Fall as Field Narrows to Eight.

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Two of the seeded players and half of the British invasion were cut off today in play that reduced the Newport casino tennis tournament to the quarter-finals stage.

Clifford Sutter, of New Orleans, and Wilmer Allison, former Davis cup player, were the domestic stars who suffered upsets, and G. Patrick Hughes, of England, accompanied them into the discard.

Allison's defeat was due to the spotty play he has shown most of the season. He had a commanding lead but lost the domestic status when he fell to pieces. The Brits' winning margin was 4-6, 6-0, 3-6, 6-1, 6-2.

Sutter bowed out in the second round, dropping a 6-4, 6-4 decision to J. Gilbert Hall, of East Orange, N. J., who was chosen by Bryan Grant, of Atlanta, Ga., 6-3, 6-4, 7-5, in a third-round clash. "Bitty" ran his opponent ragged with a great exhibition for his straight-set victory.

Champion Johnny Doe again played below the form expected of a national title, but managed to qualify for the last eight brackets by vanquishing Edward W. Burns, of New York, 7-5, 8-6, 6-4. Burns had little to boast of, however, as he was expected to worry Doe several times during the stubbornly contested clash.

The champion, despite his unimpressive play, was the only third-round victor, except Grant to stifle his opposition in straight sets. Sidney Wood, United States Davis cup singles player, has never in danger with Gregory Mangin, but the Newark competitor forced the New York stylist into an extra set before going down under Sidney's perfect attack, 7-5, 4-6, 6-1, 6-3.

Cit Championship Swimming Meet Will Be Held on August 29

VENETIAN CLUB WILL BE SCENE OF BIG CARNIVAL

Entries Already Pouring in; Collegians Expected to Star.

Atlanta's first city championship swimming meet in several years will be staged at the Venetian Athletic Club pool on Saturday, August 29, according to an announcement made Tuesday by Miss Virginia Ashe, perhaps the south's best-known girl swimmer, and Walter Baker, of the Venetian Club.

According to the plans announced Tuesday, four classes of swimmers will compete, each in four events. Junior and senior divisions will be held for both men and women. Breast stroke, back stroke, 50-yard free style and 100-yard free style championships will be decided in each class.

NIGHT SWIMMING. The junior division will be at stake Saturday afternoon, while the senior events will be held that night.

Atlanta has produced a number of fine swimmers in the past and has sent strong teams to state, A. A. U. and invitation events, but has not recently sponsored a meet in which individual supremacy within the city could be decided.

With the first announcements Tuesday, entries started coming in at once. Some 25 swimmers had filed their applications Tuesday night. Miss Ashe is in charge of the registrations and is accepting them at her home.

COLLEGE STARS. A number of former Georgia Tech and Georgia stars are expected to be threats in the senior men's division, while many of the prep school flashers should fight it out for the junior titles. Women's events in both classes are also expected to be closely contested by good swimmers.

The Venetian pool will be open to all entrants for preliminary practice, it was also announced Tuesday. Competitors are invited to become familiar with conditions at the pool before they start in the meet.

It is planned to hold diving exhibitions as well as a novelty swim or two as co-features with the championship events.

Lott-Nuthall Team To Try for Crown

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 18.—George M. Lott and Betty Nuthall, the 1929 national mixed doubles champions, will attempt to regain their title in the 1931 tournament at the Longwood Cricket Club next week. Wilfred P. Shepherd-Baron, manager of the British Wightman cup team, announced today this partnership and the partnership of the other British Wightman cup players as follows:

Mrs. Dorothy J. Shepherd-Baron and Pat Hughes; Miss Phyllis Mudd and Fred G. Perry; Mrs. Frances Whitcomb, the former Eileen Bennett, and Sydney B. Wood, Jr.; and Miss Dorothy Round and Lester Stoeffen, a Los Angeles player making his first appearance in the east.

Frenchmen on Way, Doubles Are Put Off

BROOKLINE, Mass., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Word received that a French team of four players headed by Jacques Brugnon will arrive in New York today on the steamer France. Tuesday caused postponement of the start of the national doubles play to August 26 from the preceding day to permit time to compete.

Richard Brindley, president of the Longwood Cricket Club, where the national doubles and mixed doubles will be played next week, said he was informed the French team was composed of Brugnon, Christian Bousquet and two young players new to Americans, Bernard and Merlin.

THE SPORTLIGHT

Rube Marquard's Soliloquy.

(On reading that Bob Grove is now out after his old record.)
How speed the ages on their way;
How old Doc Time must flatter by;
How brief, alas, each vanished day;
As centuries arise and die;
For here I see it jotted down:
On history's eternal scroll:
Where Babylon was quite a town—
And I—had nineteen straight.
But yesterday J. Caesar cleaned
The pennant up in vanished Gaul;
But yesterday Kid David beamed
Goliah with his swiftest ball;
For I remember from the mold
Of things that were—each deed and date—
When Cleopatra knocked 'em cold,
And I—had nineteen straight.
Within my den at night I read
Forgotten legends of the years;
Gray age on age I lamp the scroll:
Of Hector's fall and Helen's tears;
Yes, Grove, beyond time's fading ridge,
I see once more the laurel wait,
When old Horatius held the bridge—
And I—had nineteen straight.

A Long Way Back.

A young fellow by the name of Amos Alonzo Stagg celebrated his sixty-ninth birthday this week. As a competitor and a coach of competitors he goes back quite a span in American sport. Still active in the game and ready for his fortieth season at Chicago University, he goes back to the day of Heffelfinger, before the day of Hinkey.

He was a star football end and a star baseball player 17 years before Ty Cobb came to the big top at Detroit in 1905. He had come to his late 15 years before Bobby Jones was born—six years before Babe Ruth was born. This was 13 years before John McGraw came to the Giants. It was before Cy Young pitched his first game for Cleveland. Larry Lajoie was a young cab driver in Woonsocket and Honus Wagner was a boy-legged kid.

Yet this is the same Stagg who will send his team against Yale this fall, against the Blue stronghold he left against the time Walter Camp was picking his first All-American team—of which Amos Alonzo Stagg was one of the leading stars.

NEW O'SHOCKER HOLDS PUNISHES OPPONENT'S LEG

Pat Will Use New Lock Against Steinborn Tuesday.

Pat O'Shocker, the shock from Utah, has a leg hold which he believes to be as punishing as champion Jim Londie's Japanese toe hold. O'Shocker will use it here next Tuesday night when he meets Milo Steinborn, the German strong man, in one of the two two-hour matches on the evening's program at Spiller field.

O'Shocker demonstrated his famous toe hold while last week in the defeat of Charles Fox, the tough boy from Cleveland.

"LEG STRANGLE." He catches an opponent in, or forces him to, a sitting position. This is usually considered an invulnerable position. Not with O'Shocker. He steps over his opponent's shoulder with one leg, reaches down and grabs one of his opponent's legs at the knee, sits down on opponent's shoulders and pulls up as he sits down.

For some reason O'Shocker calls it the "leg strangle." There is a sort of strangling effect because the leg is pulled up against the owner's chest and the result is a shortening of the breathing, a terrific strain on the tendons of the leg and a general discomfort. The opponent is forced backward into a fall.

O'Shocker is one of the topnotchers in the game. He is just 26 years old and is still a championship possibility. He gave Jim Londie one of the greatest hits of the year when he defeated him in a two-hour match.

ATTRACTIVE MATCH. His match with Milo Steinborn is sure to attract a swarm of customers to the ball park.

The second match, also a two-hour bout, will be between Paul Jones and George Zarnas, a newcomer and one not to be confused with Zarnas, the 210-pounder who defeated the champion ever had.

Tickets will go on sale this week at the Candler Building Soda Company and at the Piedmont Hatters. Ladies will be admitted to any seat in the stands for $1. Despite the fact that both matches are two-hour affairs, with stars as principals, there will be no increase in prices.

Is Chapman Fast? Reynolds Will See

CHICAGO, Aug. 18.—(AP)—A foot race at 100 yards between Ben Chapman, of the New York Yankees, the leading base-stealer of the major leagues, and Carl Reynolds, fleet White Sox outfielder, will be held during the Yankee-Sox series here next week.

The Yankees, Babe Ruth particularly, think Chapman is the fastest man in the American league, while the White Sox believe Reynolds can outfoot him on the straightaway.

Ruth recently won himself a good sized bet backing Chapman against Allen "Dusty" Cooke, a teammate, at 100 yards.

MAXIE'S OPTIC INVESTIGATED

N. B. A. To See Whether Schmeling Is Badly Hurt or Not.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(AP)—On behalf of Madison Square Garden of Illinois, the National Boxing Association will conduct an inquiry into the seriousness of the injury Max Schmeling, heavyweight champion, says will prevent him from meeting Primo Carnera or anybody else this year. The investigation will be conducted through N. B. A. affiliates in Germany.

William F. Carey, president of the New York Garden, said the investigation was limited to two contests with Carnera under contract to meet Schmeling and posted a $60,000 bond to guarantee that the match would go through before the contract expires.

Representative Schmeling recently called from Germany that an injured eye would keep him out of the ring for some months.

Carey revealed at the same time that the Garden will make no effort to halt the proposed bout between Carnera and Jack Sharkey at Elberts arena in New York City.

He said that if Schmeling's eye injury is certified by an N. B. A. official, thus preventing him from meeting Carnera, the Garden will release him from his contract.

Mate Comes Back To Capture Kenner

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 18.—(AP)—Once again Saratoga's 3-year-old turf division, A. C. Bostwick's Mate, a beaten horse in the Saratoga handicap last week, came back today to win the 3-year-old division.

The son of Prince Pal, twice conqueror of twenty Grand National, was at his best today. He picked up 126 pounds, stepped the distance in 1:58 1/5 and at the end of the journey held an advantage of four lengths over Mrs. Katherine E. Hitt's Sun Meadow, the colt that beat Jameson in the Belmont stakes, which was won by Twenty Grand.

Ashley, of the Belair Stud and stablemate of Gallant Fox, the 1930 champion, finished five lengths back of Sun Meadow in third place.

D. D. Moore's Danour, winner of the Saratoga, had an advantage of three pounds today and he finished sixth and last back of Blenheim and Rocky News. Danour set the early pace, but when George Ellis gave the word, Mate stepped around the Saratoga winner.

Despite Mate's poor showing in the Saratoga, he was made the 9-to-10 favorite today with Sun Meadow the second choice. The victory, carrying off at a purse of $4,925, boosted the Woodward colt's total earnings to $237,250.

Ellis broke Mate on top, but let Danour take the lead almost immediately. Turning into the back stretch, Danour led by a length with Mate running easily two lengths in front of Sun Meadow.

Rounding the bend for home, Mate quickly moved alongside Danour. Sun Meadow also spurred and by the time they entered the final straightaway, Danour was through and Mate was out in front, leading his way for the judges' stand.

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(P)— Bonds were dragged down by the railroad group in today's market.
The day's turnover of $7,858,000 par value exceeded yesterday's by only $285,000.
The price average of 30 representative issues fell nearly half a point, the widest decline in almost a fortnight. The average of 10 rails again broke to a new bottom level, while the 10 industrials and 10 utilities showed only slight losses.

Railroad issues dropping about 2 to 4 points to new lows for the year or longer included such issues as Baltimore & Ohio refunding 5s and convertible 4 1/2s, New York Central consolidated 4s, Philadelphia, Baltimore & Washington 4 1/2s, Southern Pacific 4 1/2s of 1931, and Southern Railway general 4s. Georgia & Alabama 5s lost about 5 points. Some of the high-grade issues were steady.
In the foreign department, the German issues were under pressure for a time particularly the Young plan loan, but recovered during the afternoon.
The Young plan, or German government 5 1/2s, closed a fraction higher.
Most movements in the higher grade domestic utilities and industrials were narrow.

The United States government issues were generally firm.

FRENCH SEEK TAXES ON U. S. TRANSACTIONS

NEW YORK, Aug. 18.—(P)—Members of the New York Stock Exchange with offices in France are concerned over an attempt of the French government to impose taxes on transactions involving American securities. It was learned today that De Saint Phille & Company has been assessed 1,000,000 francs, including taxes on the trading on which has been contested in a test case.
Partners of that firm and officials of the New York Stock Exchange declined to discuss the matter, but it is known that the latter institution has been kept informed of the matter because of the threat to the trading on its floor which the collection of the tax would involve.

(Consolidated)

A gain of $1,641,867 in residential use of electricity was more than sufficient to offset decreased use for large power purposes, so that the Company was able to report a gain of 1% in net operating revenue.
